Author Disclosure Declaration

It is the policy of the Wisconsin Medical Journal to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in the Journal. All authors are required to disclose to the readers any real or apparent conflict(s) of interest that may have a direct bearing on the subject matter or content of the article. This pertains to relationships with pharmaceutical companies, biomedical device manufacturers or any other corporations or organizations whose products, services, or functions may be related to the subject matter of the article.

The intent of the policy is not to prevent authors with a potential conflict of interest from publication. It is merely intended that any potential conflict should be identified openly so that the readers may form their own judgments about the article with the full disclosure of the facts. It is for the readers to determine whether the author's outside interests may reflect a possible bias in either the article's exposition or the conclusions presented.
